MEMORIES OF FUN

—And thus it was written
May Our Dreams Be Bright
"And the thoughts of Youth are long, long thoughts."
—Longfellow

And the memories of school life form an intricate pattern which grows more brilliant, more sharply defined with every tick of the clock and every beat of the heart.

Lighted Corridors, darkened Corridors, snow against the windows, wind whistling, pencil boxes, black and white pages from multi-colored books, holding hands, and the whole comradeship of youth all go to make up school life.

We once saw a sundial bearing the inscription, "I count only the sunny hours." Perhaps this book, like the sundial, counts, too, only the sunny hours of high school life and only the brightest of associations.

But in the mind of every reader, the other half of the memory pattern is equally visible. For every note of laughter there is a chord of sorrow, and for every moment of joy there is a corresponding touch of pathos. They have been entwined, each with the other.

If we have planned our lives well and erected our ideals upon a sound base, the moments of joy will become sacred and the pathos become beautiful.

As we read this book, may the faces which smile at us from the pages be the faces of our friends. May the places depicted here be those which have become most tender through long association. And may all our dreams be bright.

IN MEMORIAM

Ray Dukes

He served us for so short a time, and yet the memory of his work, his kind deeds and his happy smile has never dimmed in our hearts.

To him we dedicate this book, in humble appreciation of his contribution not forgotten.

We, the Junior and Senior Classes, extend our sincere sympathy to those, his wife and children, his intimate friends, who were privileged to know him best and to whom his going was the greatest loss.

Superintendent

Mr. Broyles

Indeed a prominent figure in Liberty High's athletics is Eagles' coach, George H. Broyles, whose red, white, and blue teams have turned in more than creditable showing during his three years at the helm. Sportsmanship and character building have always been stressed both in practice sessions and interscholastic competition.

For three years Mr. Broyles has capably filled the office of superintendent of Liberty Twp. School. Not only has he assumed the responsibility of executing the official duties of the school, but he also teaches Democracy, physical education, and is athletic coach. The students have come to look upon Mr. Broyles not as a master, but as a friend always willing to discuss their problems and cooperate in any project which they may undertake.

Principal

Mr. Oswald

It is said that Socrates, in response to an inner voice, devoted himself to the education of youth. Likewise, Mr. Oswald has given unselfishly of his great store of knowledge, so that we present-day youth might have a better hypothesis of life. If this were not so, many of us Seniors would not have acquired some of the knowledge we have gotten in the past two years and would not be able to take with us many of the pleasant memories that have been brought to us by Mr. Oswald. Too, if Mr. Oswald were not so unselfish with his store of knowledge, perhaps some of us wouldn't be graduating this spring with as high honors as we have at the present time. True, a student can get something out of a lesson if he merely reads it over, but to get the true meaning, someone like Mr. Oswald, who is willing to give freely of his knowledge to help someone else, and who is unmindful of the time it takes to explain a problem. Mr. Oswald's time is valuable, but if he thinks he can help someone to acquire a better education he doesn't think how much time it will take for him to give his help.

We students of Liberty are proud to have Mr. Oswald for our principal, and we seniors hope that he will continue for some years to come, to give unselfishly of his knowledge so that others might be happier.

Mr. Gonso received his A.B. Degree from Findlay College. He majored in English and minored in French and History.

During Mr. Gonso's first year at Liberty he was advisor of the eighth grade, in charge of the library, directed the Junior Class Play and was the advisor of the Newspaper Staff.

Besides teaching English and geography, he has been an active member in other activities at Liberty.

Mr. Gonso's hobbies are books, hunting, fishing and meteorology. Characteristics—ironcial, exacting, earnest.

Mrs. Wilson received her A.B. Degree from Findlay College, and also attended Bluffton College, the University of Michigan, the University of Colorado, and Bowling Green University. She majored in Latin and history and minored in English, and French. She has taught at Liberty for the past three years. Mrs. Wilson is advisor of the Senior Class and directed the Senior Class Play. Her hobby is reading. Characteristics—sincere, loyal, trustworthy.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

As we take our voyage through high school, and, as we consider each subject—one by one, we may intelligently conclude that English lays a firm foundation for success in any course. If we knew nothing of English, I'm afraid that we would be mere toads in a puddle, struggling to little avail.

In realization of this, we are carrying out a full and thorough program this year in our English department under the most able direction of Mr. Harry Gonso who is a graduate of Findlay College. Acknowledging the fact that it is utterly significant that we possess the ability to talk and write intelligently, we have stressed vocabulary and composition work. We feel that we will be greatly indebted to this offer of such knowledge in years to come.

We sincerely hope that all of our students —both present and those to enter our department in years to come, will withdraw from the English department of Liberty High School, fully educated in the vast field of literature and grammar.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT

In the ever moving chain of events which make up what we call history, we should all pause to think what made these events possible.

In our history classes we attempt to have the pupils understand that they have received a precious inheritance from the past and that they should feel proud to make improvements which will increase and enhance its value.

American history is taught to help boys and girls to better understand America in order that they may be better equipped to perform their duties as American citizens. It seeks (1) to arouse their curiosity as to why the builders of America did what they did the way they did; (2) to help them understand our present day problems by showing how they have grown out of the roots of the past.

By viewing history in this way the students can see that they have a very definite part in helping to shape the history of both to-day and to-morrow.

Mr. Knight received his A.B. degree from Wittenberg College, his A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Cincinnati. He majored in history, political science, and mathematics, and minored in English and biological science. Mr. Knight has taught at Liberty for the past four years, and was advisor of the Junior class this year. His hobbies are: farming, collecting stamps, reading, travel, working with plants, collecting coins, and making things in general. In the future, Mr. Knight plans to go to another university and to do a lot of traveling. Characteristics—ambitious, studious, earnest.

Mr. Oswald received his A.B. degree from Findlay College and his M.Sc. degree from Ohio State University, and also has attended the University of Colorado. Mr. Oswald majored in science and minored in mathematics.

This is Mr. Oswald's second year at Liberty. During both of these years Mr. Oswald has served our school both as principal and advisor of the Booster Board as well as teaching science. Mr. Oswald's hobby is radio. Characteristics—agreeable, amicable, intelligent.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

The mathematics department of the Liberty High School attempts to clinch, in the seventh and eighth grade arithmetic courses, such necessary information as: the ordinary uses of percentage, banks, installment buying, formulas and measurement, stocks and bonds, all kinds of insurance, and taxes. Near the end of the year a preview of algebraic equations and plane geometrical figures is given.

Algebra, by which problems not solvable by arithmetic are mastered, is given in the ninth grade.

Plane geometry, which follows algebra, deals with triangles, squares, rectangles, circles, etc., and the facts concerning them. In other words plane geometry deals with properties of two dimensional figures, upon which is based carpentry, civil engineering, trigonometry, astronomy, and navigation.

The third unit of high school mathematics is second year algebra and solid geometry. This advanced algebra deals largely with the handling of quadratic equations, graphing of conic section, curves, logarithms, ratio, proportion, variation, and progressions. The solid geometry takes the two dimensional figures of plane geometry into the third dimension solids.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

In a world that has become conscious of loran, radar, R.M. and atomic bombs, the study of science can mean much more than formerly. It is difficult to pick up any newspaper or magazine without finding some, and often many, references to scientific events.

In order to be able to read these items intelligently, a knowledge of the fundamental, scientific principles is necessary.

World War II caused scientific research to increase tremendously. Facts were discovered that would have taken many years of ordinary research.

Utilizing these discoveries for the benefit of humanity is also a scientific obligation and can be accomplished only if we have trained scientists to do it.

Liberty High offers all the usual scientific courses of the High School curriculm: chemistry, physics, biology, and general science.

It is by the application of scientific principles, the fundamentals of which are learned in High School, that the many recent achievements can be made to serve mankind.

Mr. Monson received his B.S. degree in Smith-Hughes Agriculture from Ohio State University. For the past four years, Mr. Monson has been the Smith-Hughes teacher in the Liberty and Vanlue schools. Previous to this time Mr. Monson was full time instructor at Vanlue.

Mr. Monson was considered, by the agriculture instructors of the County, as being one of the able Smith-Hughes men in the County.

We are sorry to see him leave, but feel that we have replaced him with an up and coming teacher. We wish him well in his new vocation, farming.

Mr. Pursley received his B.S. degree in Smith-Hughes Agriculture at Ohio State University. During his years at Ohio State, Mr. Pursley majored in vocational agriculture and minored in biological science and animal husbandry. Starting at the beginning of the second semester, Mr. Pursley has successfully filled Mr. Monson's place. Mr. Pursley's hobbies are: dancing, basketball games, and swimming. Characteristics—Understanding, helpful, masterful.

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT

Mr. Monson has capably filled the position of Smith-Hughes Agriculture teacher for Liberty School for the past four years.

During his time, many improvements have been made; two adult courses were supervised by him, many tractors were overhauled, buck-rakes, wagons, and trailers were built. Although Mr. Monson did half of his teaching at Vanlue, we can say much has been accomplished during his stay at Liberty. While here he had three boys who received State Farmer's Degrees and we contribute much of the success of these boys to Mr. Monson who supervised and encouraged them in their farming activities.

Even though Mr. Pursley is very efficiently filling Mr. Monson's shoes, we all miss him very much and wish him great success on his farm in Union County.

Future Farmers of America! The Liberty Chapter of the F.F.A. was established in 1934. Since that time some one hundred boys have had their first exposure to agriculture as a vocation.

The Vocational Agriculture classes are primarily to teach the boys the basic principles of farming and money making. The F.F.A. part of the vocational training is to give the boys an insight to social activity. Working and co-operating with other people is a large order in today's living.

This year's F.F.A. is under the guidance of President, Dale Tuttle; Vice President, Everett Elder; Secretary, Keith Jackson; Treasurer, Rex Coats; and Reporter, Rex McCartney.

One of the activities carried on during the year was competition in the Hancock County Pest Hunt, in which they placed third.

A banquet with the F.H.A., a theatre party, and pooling the orders for seeds and minerals, are but a few of the many activities.

Learning to Do, Doing to Learn, Earning to Live, Living to Serve, that is the motto that every F.F.A. boy strives to hold.

Miss Montogmery received her B.S. degree from Ohio State University, and majored in home economics and minored in social studies. Besides teaching home ec, Miss Montogmery is advisor of the Freshman Class and manages the cafeteria. Her only hobby is sewing. Characteristics—co-operative, reliable, sociable.

Miss Atwater received her B.M. degree from Heidelberg College. She majored in public school music and minored in English.

During her first year at Liberty, Miss Atwater organized the girls' glee club, girls' ensemble, Junior High Chorus and Junior High ensemble. She also organized a boys' chorus and boys' quartette.

Miss Atwater also taught seventh and eighth grade English, instrumental and piano lessons and was band leader.

Besides teaching music and English Miss Atwater is the advisor of the seventh grade. Her hobbies are golfing, piano, and swimming. Characteristics—Young, daring, musical.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

"A hundred men may make an encampment, but it takes a woman to make a home." Realizing the truth of this old Chinese proverb and sensing also the importance of training for this lifetime career, twenty-three freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior girls enrolled in homemaking classes this year. The daily, double period classes have included experiences varying from a study of problems met when helping mother care for baby brother, to constructing the fuzzy, fall fashions and the simple, sparkling, spring selections; and back again to catching up on what manufacturers are producing now to help homemakers. Of course this doesn't mean that foods, modern family problems and a dozen or so other areas were omitted.

Some outstanding activities included: a banquet given for the school-board, preparing school-lunches in the cafeteria, serving a tea for the F.H.A., and giving a Valentine Party for friends.

The seniors are looking forward to making good use of all they have learned in whatever activities they find themselves next year while the undergraduate classes are hoping to study a few of the many homemaking activities which they have not been able to include this year.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

This year the music program includes the High School Girls' Chorus—President, Pat Wagner; Vice-President, Evelyn Magsig; Secretary, June Price; Librarians, Ermajean Thomas and Kathryn Benson.

As an extra part of this chorus we have a High School Ensemble which includes the following: Mable Briggs, Joan Niswander, Evelyn Magsig, Janis Watkins, Ermajean Thomas, Kathryn Benson, June Price, Martha Altman, and Ruth Ann Roller.

We have also started a Boys' Chorus in the High School: President, Paul Pepple; Vice-President, Bob Litzenberg; Secretary, Myron Bunn.

In the Junior High, the Special Mixed Chorus is doing fine work. The officers are: President, Francis Watkins; Vice-President, Joan Sharninghouse; Secretary, Donald McCartney; Librarians, Junior Bright and Maurice Bosse.

Along with this is the Junior High Quartet with Mary Lou Brobst, Janet Ferrell, Barbara Wittenmyer, and Betty Harris.

The Band has grown quite a bit and we hope it will continue to do so, especially with football games coming up for next year.

Mr. Broyles, our superintendent, received his A.B. degree from Rio Grande College, his M.A. degree in administration at Miami University and has worked for two summers on his Ph.D degree at Ohio State. In addition to receiving these degrees, Mr. Broyles has also attended Ohio University, Wilmington College, and Butler University. He majored in biological science and minored in social science, physical science, and English. Mr. Broyles is a member of the Senior Scholarship Committee, the Crippled Children's Committee, secretary-treasurer of the Hancock County School Master's Club and chairman of the Hancock County Chapter of the National Honorary Society. Mr. Broyles is one of the two superintendents in the county that serves his school as both superintendent and coach. Mr. Broyles has been our superintendent for the past three years. Characteristics—good sportsman, capable, practical.

Mrs. Gongwer received her A.B. degree at Findlay College. She has also attended Ohio Wesleyan and majored in Business Administration at Tiffin University. Mrs. Gongwer has also majored in mathematics, physical science, and English, and has minored in social science. During her year at Liberty, Mrs. Gongwer has been advisor of the Sophomore Class, directed the Junior High Girls' physical education classes, and has taught commercial arts. Mrs. Gongwer's hobby is handicraft. Characteristics—Pleasant, friendly, companionable.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical education provides many and varied opportunities for the development of leadership, fellowship, courage, and sense of fair play. It creates a wholesome attitude toward the development and maintenance of a sound body and continuance of play during leisure time.

Physical education can be primarily muscle activity but at Liberty we attempt to coordinate mind and muscle to make a well rounded physical and mental body into the best citizen possible. This department attempts, through its interscholastic, intramural and physical education program, to develop organized and directed activity and to enrich the individual appreciation of all social functions.

Nearly 100 percent of Liberty's enrollment participates in some form of physical activity. The program consists of football, basketball, volleyball, softball, ping pong and many other forms of physical and social activity.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

There is always a need for trained workers. For the past few years nearly anyone could get and keep a job. Gradually conditions are changing. Standards of work are rising. The worker with the best training will be the one who gets and keeps the position.

The Commercial Department of Liberty High School offers practical courses in the business field such as: typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, general business and business law. These studies, when successfully completed, enable a graduate to obtain and hold work.

As each year comes and goes, the qualifications for positions become more strict. Therefore, as students near the end of their high school days and look forward to their private life in this world, they have found our Commercial Department very helpful in preparing them to go out on their own and face the great world of business.

Miss Ruppright received her training in elementary education at Ohio Northern University. She is the fifth grade home room teacher and teaches departmental in the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades. Miss Ruppright's hobby is collecting art. Characteristics — kind, helpful, understanding.

Mrs. Bradley has received her training at Wittenberg College, Miami University, and Bowling Green University. She majored in elementary education and has as her hobbies, sewing, knitting, and teaching children. Mrs. Bradley is home room teacher of the fourth and sixth grades and also teaches departmental in the fourth, fifth, and sixth. Characteristics—studious, helpful, reliable.

FIFTH GRADE

The fifth grade has Miss Ruppright as their home room teacher this year. This grade has one new pupil, Hilbern Stillberger from Rawson; and has lost one pupil, Virginia Payne, who moved to Fostoria, leaving the class with twenty-one students, the same as last year.

In this grade Miss Ruppright teaches arithmetic, English, science and art; while Mrs. Bradley teaches reading, history, geography, and writing. The two teachers again divide the spelling classes.

The fifth grade has also participated in the paper drive this year.

The grade assembly for March was presented by the fifth grade under the direction of Miss Ruppright and Miss Atwater.

FOURTH AND SIXTH GRADES

The fourth and sixth grades, being two of the smallest classes in school, are both in the same home room with Mrs. Bradley as their home room teacher. There are fourteen pupils in the fourth grade and fifteen in the sixth grade this year.

The subjects of these two grades are: arithmetic, English, science, and art taught by Miss Ruppright; and reading, history, geography, and writing taught by Mrs. Bradley. The two teachers divided the spelling classes.

The fourth and sixth grades brought in over a ton of paper for the paper drive this year.

The February grade assembly program was presented by the fourth and sixth grades under the direction of Mrs. Bradley and Miss Atwater.

Mrs. Gardner received her training at Bowling Green Univesrity and majored in elementary education. Mrs. Gardner has taught at Liberty for the past two years and is now teacher of the second and third grades. Mrs. Gardner has no hobbies. Characteristics—thoughtful, understanding, companionable, loyal.

Mrs. Ray received her training in elementary education at Ohio Northern University. Mrs. Ray teaches the first grade and has no hobbies. Characteristics—loyal, friendly, helpful.

SECOND & THIRD GRADES

It has often been stated that a child's charcter is molded in the very early years. It can also be said that a pupil's attitude toward education is formed in the primary department. If his first three years are wholesome and happy he will have formed a favorable attitude which will benefit him throughout his school career.

It is the aim of this department to stimulate a fondness for books and learning. We wish to instill an eagerness to learn and the fact that "going to school" is an exciting privilege rather than a disagreeable task.

FIRST GRADE DEPARTMENT

Entering the first grade means the beginning of an entirely new life for the child and one of the most important aims in this grade is co-operation. Learning to play, work, and comfort for every one is an important preparation for later life.

We do not, of course, stop there but through this co-operation we are able to learn to read, write, do many things with numbers and art, and begin to take an active interest in the school as an important part of our lives.

CLASS PROPHECY

Well, since I have opened my beauty shop in California, I have often longed for the chance to see all the old graduates of Liberty's class of '46. My new helicopter arrived this morning so I think I shall journey back to see how each has made out with the world in the past ten years.

Having packed my wardrobe and arranged for someone to take over my shop —off I go! One nice thing about operating a helicopter yourself is that you can go where you please. On over mountains, hills, and valleys I flew until I came to Salt Lake City. Flying a little lower—so I could see all the sights—I thought I saw a familiar face. Sure enough, there was Raymond Bateson supervising the building of a diving board in the middle of Salt Lake. Probably he is going to learn to swim yet, and maybe teach his wife, Ruby, how, too. Suppose?

After going on my way for a while longer, I decided to make a stop at Denver, Colorado, for a short rest. Upon landing, I thought I'd better have the plane refueled. I motioned to a man to taxi it away, and it happened that it was no one else but Dick Ridge. After a short chat, I learned that he and Phoebe Cookson had moved there some time ago, and that they had been running the gas refueling station ever since. I also learned from Dick that he still had the nice habit of taking Phoebe to basketball games and holding her hand at the candy counter for sentimental reasons.

Following a good night's sleep in the Simon-Wilson hotel, with George Simon as the boss and Jean Ann Wilson as his private secretary, I again darted off in my helicopter, to explore further.

The view from the air is beautiful over Colorado Springs. Looking below, I thought I saw little spots running around in a large fenced in lot. Dropping a little lower, I eventually saw that they must be chickens. Oh, yes, there was a sign that read: "Everett's Ever Best, Ever Laying Chickens." Yes, Everett Elder did get his wish of becoming a poultry man. Only when he was in school, he may have had a different "chick" in mind. Well, you needn't worry, because she is down there with him and is still the main "chick" of the bunch.

As I flew over Kansas City, I happened to remember that Dick Ridge had mentioned something about Myron Bunn and Keith Jackson being cattle buyers for Swift & Armour Company, so I decided to stop and look them up, since I was so near there. Not having the slightest idea where to start looking when I finally did reach the stock yards, I just wandered around. Since it was quite crowded I didn't seem to notice people bumping into me until someone came down full weight on my right foot! After screaming a loud "Ouch!" I looked up and saw it was Keith Jackson. It's true I had been scouting around trying to find Myron and him but I didn't exactly expect him to walk all over me!! He apologized quickly and together we met Myron—for they were ta have lunch in a few minutes. While eating, we discussed all of our life before. They were in quite a hurry for they had an important business meeting with the boss. So not long after, I was again on my way.

As time passed in the helicopter, I finally found myself over the great Ohio State University. Having been in the air for such a long stretch of time, I decided to land on the college campus. When I finally got the thing on the ground, with just a few less bumps and jerks than before, I looked out and saw a few wide-eyed people glaring at me wondering what was my idea in stopping there, I guess. As they came closer to me, I saw that there were a few from some of the schools in Hancock County. One of the people I noticed first was Paul Pepple and after talking with him for a little while, I learned he was still going to college so he could play football.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

History is being made every day. We began making history in the year of 1942 when fifteen from Liberty and nine from Benton Ridge entered the freshman class.

That year we elected Myron Bunn, President; Junior Bauman, Vice-President; and Ruth Doll, Secretary-Treasurer. Our advisor was Miss Harpst. Instead of initiating us, the seniors gave a party in our honor to which the whole high school was invited. When the Thanksgiving Season came around, we gave a chapel play entitled "Somehow Thanksgiving."

During the school term and vacation, we lost Clyde Augsburger, Junior Bauman, Herbert Wilcox, and Virginia Browneller. And George Simon moved in.

After having completed our first year in high school we thought that we were intelligent but we found we still had a lot to learn.

This year we chose Myron Bunn, President; Everett Elder, Vice-President; and Mable Briggs, Secretary-Treasurer. We also chose Ruth Doll and Raymond Bateson as our Booster Board representatives. We had charge of the assembly on the Friday of Education Week. Original speeches were given by six of our members. Our Advisor for this year was Mr. Knight. Irene Huffman left us during the last part of our sophomore year, and we welcomed Bob Litzenberg.

We entered our junior year with seven girls and ten boys making a total of seventeen members. This year we chose Raymond Bateson, President; Myron Bunn, Vice-President; Jean Wilson, Secretary; and Doris Bunn, Treasurer. Our Booster Board representatives were Mable Briggs and Bob Litzenberg.

Early in the year we lost two of our members, Ruth Doll and Lasley Wilkinson. On May 23rd we presented the play "The Black Derby" under the direction of Miss Bryant. It was a great success and a great triumph for us. We acted as hosts on May 3rd, at the Junior-Senior Banquet.

During the school term and vacation, we lost Richard La Roche; and Evelyn Magsig and Phoebe Cookson moved in.

We started our senior year with seven girls and nine boys. We chose Raymond Bateson as President; Dale Tuttle, Vice-President Jean Wilson, Secretary; and Evelyn Magsig, as Treasurer. We were represented on the Booster Board by Mable Briggs and Keith Jackson. On November 9th we entertained the community with "Auntie's Money." This was only one of our many successes. Others were the Senior Chapel of May 10, the Baccalaureate of May 12, and the Commencement of May 16.

Thus, we ended our school life. Now we are ready to face a different kind of life—one which will be guided by our school training.

Junior Class History

On September fourth the Juniors walked into our homeroom, feeling very proud of the work we had accomplished thus far. Our enrollment was twenty-four. From this number we chose Dick Flick, President; Wayne Fry, Vice-President; Rex McCartney, Secretary-Treasurer. Our Booster Board representatives were Agnes Laibe and Kenneth Cramer. Mr. Knight was our sponsor.

We lost one of our members, Tom Clymer, during the year.

On March 15th, we presented the play "Aunt Susie Shoots the Works," under the direction of Mr. Gonso.

Our class was also well represented in football and basketball.

We are now looking forward to our Senior year which we hope will be a great success.

The college made an agreement with him that he could go to college and major in engineering drawing, free of charge, for as long as he liked, if he would be on their great football team. Paul has done quite well knocking 'em down, too! !

Since I was planning on staying at the university for a while, I thought I'd take a stroll to explore the place. As I walked by the cafeteria, I caught such a pleasant aroma I had to go in and investigate further. Passing through a room with long tables and chairs in it, I finally came to the kitchen, and believe it or not, there stood Katy Briggs over the stove stirring a large kettle of some sort of soup. Oh—— I just noticed she has a helper. Uh huh, Kenny, who else? ? ? ? ?

Hours must have passed quickly as we sat talking over all the good old times at Liberty, for, when I looked at my watch, I noticed it was quite late, and that if I ever wanted to reach Liberty, I'd better scram.

When I finally reached my yellow helicopter with the bright red dots, I found it pretty well deserted except for one person who was sitting with her back toward me in the cockpit of the plane. Wondering what was going on, I hurriedly climbed up and found that it was none other than an old classmate, Betty Hanna. When she began apologizing and saying she always wanted to try to operate a plane, she noticed it was I and began asking me millions of questions! ! She said she was the "Dean of Girls" at the college and that she had often wondered, too, how everyone in our class made out. I told her all about those I had seen, and finally we had discussed everyone. Gee—it was really late now! !

Up in the air again—and, I figured there should be only one more stop to make, and that would be at Liberty. I was glad, too, because I was getting tired from the ride, although I enjoyed seeing everyone a lot.

After flying for quite a while, I finally came to the familiar sight of Findlay. Ohh! What's all that racket below? ? Swooping downward toward the Findlay stock yard I saw—yes, it was Bob Litzenberg, standing on a large platform with loads of people surrounding him. No—it couldn't be—Bob—an auctioneer? ? ? ? ? I just had to find out for certain, so I landed and after quite a struggle got to talk to him. Yep, my guess had been correct! He was an auctioneer and after each day's work he went out to the County Home to rest, for Janis Watkins still worked there—and she soothed his nerves. Lucky man! !

Since I had seen so many of my former classmates make out so well, I was anxious to see how the rest were. So I left, right after my short talk with Bob, to fly over the large farm, owned and operated by the master farmer, Dale Tuttle, with his large herd of registered Holstein cattle. Dale's doing Okay from the looks of things for himself and—yes, there's Delores helping.

Flying just a short way north, I could see a large cornfield with someone cultivating in it. Knowing from the large, brightly colored straw hat that it must be Nina Bowman, I quickly landed and rushed over to see how she liked being a farmer's wife by now. She said she loved it, and even though she may have cultivated half the corn out, it was still just "loads of fun."

When Nina invited me to stay for dinner, I just couldn't refuse, remembering those meals she used to make in Home Economics class. Also, since it was late, plans were made for me to spend the night there, for which I was grateful, for I was completely exhausted! !

Late next morning I rolled out and decided to go shopping in Findlay since Nina had to get some groceries and things anyway. While crossing the street, I saw Doris Bunn in that same old express truck with Bill Bell at the wheel. Upon noticing me, she quickly got out and talked while Bill made a few deliveries. She said she nearly always went along to keep Bill company. After about an hour of talking, Bill came back, so she had to leave. They are happily married and they live just outside of Findlay.

Well, I guess I have seen everyone of the classmates now, so I'll have to journey back toward California. It surely has been swell seeing all the fellows and gals again!

Cheerio.

In the fall we began our course of study in the second year of high school. We elected officers as follows: President, Catherine Dangler; Vice President, William Wittenmyer; Secretary, Robert Shank; Treasurer, Norman Reigle; Reporter, Gene Beckford; and Historian, Martha Altman. Our Class participated mainly in athletics and music. We are proud to say that Gene Beckford has enough athletic ability to play on the first team in basketball and earn a letter, as well as Martha Altman who has been cheerleader for the past two years. Joan Niswander has taken an important part in the ensemble for two years. Many of the girls have taken part in Girls' Chorus.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

Freshman Class History

The Freshman Class of 1946 started the school year with its best foot forward with a total of seventeen members; nine originally from Liberty and Benton Ridge shining with eight. Miss Montgomery was our class sponsor. About a month after school started, we lost one member, Duane Chapman, to Van Buren. Two new classmates, Tom Lunn and Junior Hoenicke, came here this year from Glenwood.

Our class officers were: President, Janis Watkins; Vice-President, Roger Flick; Secretary, Margie Clark; and Treasurer, Maxine Riegle. Preethee Bunn and David Gerber represent our class on the Booster Board.

In October we went through the Honorable Initiation Ceremonies, but our pride was wounded more than we were ourselves.

Six of our boys went out for football, but only five went out for basketball. None of them, as yet, are lettermen, but just give them time and they'll come up with the best of them. The majority of the boys belong to F.F.A. while all but two of the girls belong to F.H.A.

So far, the Freshies have had two class parties; one was to celebrate our victory over Rawson in our last football game of the season. This party was held at the home of Darl Williams. The second one was a skating party at Preethee Bunn's the night of January 24. Both parties turned out pretty well with almost everyone present.

We are well on the way up the ladder of success and with the help of our advisors, we sincerely hope to reach the top.

We were proud to accept a new advisor for the rest of the year. Mr. Pursley replaced Mr. Monson, who resigned to start farming in Union County.

On the date of February 8, we, together with the F.H.A., entertained the school at assembly. We presented a parliamentary procedure team composed of freshmen and sophomores.

One of the accomplishments of the year was the building of benches to be placed around the auditorium.

We sponsored a theater party and furnished each member with two tickets and we also sponsored an F.H.A. and F.F.A. banquet.

No doubt you have seen people who are so blind to situations that you could hardly contain yourself—well such a person is dear old "Auntie," who is deaf and temperamental and about to bestow the lion's share of her one hundred thousand dollars upon Lance, her favorite nephew. Because of her deafness, she is unaware that Lance is a worthless scoundrel—who is forever planning what he will do with all of the money he will receive on "Auntie's" death. She showers many kindnesses upon him, letting the point of her vitriolic tongue fall upon her lovely niece, Lance's cousin, Veleta, who being a gentlewoman, will not betray Lance nor allow her young lawyer fiance, Ruddy Boles, to do so either. All would have gone well with him but for the timely arrival of two quack doctors, who, wishing to separate Auntie from some of her gold for themselves, agree to cure her deafness themselves. Much to their surprise and Auntie's too—they do heal her ears by a very peculiar and amusing method. Lance, unaware that Auntie has recovered her hearing, talks a bit too much and at long last "Auntie" discovers that she has been lavishing her attentions on the wrong person.

Ruddy Boles, Veleta's lawyer fiance, also has a very strong part in the play and his constant work does much to clear up this family feud—even if it just a wee bit perplexing to the simple minded housemaid, Berthanna.

The characters were: Mrs. Case, "Auntie"—Phoebe Cookson; Veleta Case, her niece—Mable Briggs; Berthanna, the housemaid—Betty Hanna; Lance Case, the nephew—Robert Litzenberg; Ruddy Boles, Veleta's Fiance—Keith Jackson; Dr. Max Jones, one of the two quack doctors—Richard Ridge; Dr. Bert Stockton, the other quack doctor—Raymond Bateson.

They are ready to make a terrified departure when Aunt Susie arrives. She calms their fears and boasts that she has inherited the works next door as well, which turns out to be a sausage works! Aunt Susie is only to inherit the property providing she is married to one of Cora's cousins, a man named Omar Groves, within thirty days. Aunt Susie hits the ceiling and prepares for a battle. PARENT TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

You wonder who Sue's Teacher is
And Johnnie's teacher, too?
You find it is hard to understand
What they are trying to do?

This modern education
Sounds like a lot of bunk,
The kids are full of questions
And the school room full of junk.

So, what to do about it
Brother, here's a way—
You will find the questions answered
If you join the P.T.A.

The P.T.A. is an organization which gives moral support to the teachers, renders financial assistance to the school, aids in social and educational functions and serves as a medium for closer understanding between school and home. It is composed of those persons who are vitally interested in co-operation among the parents, teachers, and pupils of the community for the purpose of promoting the general welfare of the school.

They have contributed toward the religious educational program and have helped the school financially in carrying out various school projects.

In addition to this, their cards, flowers, and gifts of comfort and cheer have been greatly appreciated by the sick and bereaved of the community.

An active Parent-Teacher Association is an asset to any community and ours has helped to make our school one of which we are proud.

The officers of the Parent-Teacher Association are as follows:

President .....Mr. John Orwick
Vice-President .....Mr. Earl Probst
Secretary .....Mrs. Edwin Ray
Treasurer .....Mrs. Wade Benson

FOURTH ROW: John Scoby, Paul Sheater, Gene Schoonover.

The highlight of the season was when they defeated Arlington 13-12 on Liberty's field. Liberty scored all their points in the first half of the game and Arlington came back strong in the last half and scored their twelve points.

The McComb game which was broadcast over WFIN radio station was the game that clinched the championship for Liberty. Liberty won 24-0 on a muddy field.

At the beginning of the football season Mr. Broyles promised the team gold footballs if they won the championship. The team was very proud of the footballs when they received them.

Liberty has won 13 games without a loss. Let's keep the ball rolling, Liberty.

The Liberty Eagles, champions of the Hancock county conference, wound up their 1945 football season yesterday with an undefeated record by downing North Baltimore on the Liberty field, 13-6.
Baltimore scored in the second period on a pass, Davis to Stevens. Later Bunn plunged off tackle for a Liberty touchdown and Cramer plunged for the point. Cramer in the third period tallied another touchdown, but Parkins failed to convert.
A muddy, slippery field kept the fleet ball carriers well hobbled. Cramer reeling off only a couple of 15-yarders. Bateson of Liberty booted two 70-yard punts.

FOOTBALL

The team of 1945 decided to have Co-Captains in Football. At the end of the season they elected Raymond Bateson, Quarterback, and Everett Elder, Center, to that honor. The reason they were elected was that they showed outstanding leadership.

Mr. Broyles, the coach, always taught the team to play clean and heads-up football; that was always his motto. He has been coach at Liberty for the past three years. During this time he gradually worked up a team until we became champions of Hancock County.

Raymond's and Everett's working hard with the team at all times developed an understanding among all members of the team, and it gave them team spirit and cooperation from the whole squad.

The Championship was credited to the fine teamwork and co-operation of the team. George Simon and Rex McCartney, ends, were very valuable for the catching of long passes and for their blocking ability. Kenny Cramer, known for his long runs, was very valuable to the team. Those also making it possible for Kenny's long runs were fullback, Bunn; halfback, Parkins; quarterback, Bateson; center, Elder, the tackles; and all the rest of the team who gave good offensive blocking. Everyone on the team put everything they had into all of the games to make this year's team the most successful since the team of 1929. Honors should also go to the second team for their valuable substitutes and the hard knocks that they all took.
